The EAR

Last meeting we had just 31 members present. The talks on Swansea and Botany Bay were well presented and showed the depth of knowledge in the club. Unfortunately, time ran out and the other scheduled topics were not covered.

It is with a heavy heart The EAR advises that Judith Sainsbury passed away on 21 February. Judith suffered a stroke in December and really did not recover. She was initially in Maitland Hospital then Opal Nursing at Rutherford. We extend our condolences to Max during this tough time. Max's phone is 0417 238 643 and address is 23 Greenslopes Dr Raymond Terrace 2324 . Give him a ring - - he would love to hear from you. Max has advised there will be no funeral—perhaps a bite to eat or a drink together somewhere later.

Where do you put a swollen sprained ankle when fishing in a boat? In with the live bait, of course. The ankle was damaged when the unfortunate slipped a/t on the boat ramp. C'mon gramps let us help you up - a couple of young blokes said. The incumbent was flat on his back with his head bent up against the pontoon. Ouch! Sworn to secrecy on this.

It was remiss on The EAR not to report on the December meeting—and the huge raffle. Many prizes were available and most if not all attendees took home a prize. The Christmas hams were in demand but the prize of the night went to Trevor Dean once again. This is 4 years in a row that Trevor won the jumbo pack of toilet paper. The EAR is at a loss to explain how he does this.

A lesson here. Using a heavier mono as a reel packer is fine. However adding 1kg line on top is fraught with danger. Firstly the 1kg cannot be joined to the 'packer' as it would then be classed as the rating of the packer. Secondly, it is difficult to judge just how much line is left after repeatedly re-rigging. This was a lesson learned at Swansea, a hard lesson when spooled. Now, the problem of joining the two lines no longer applies. When 'breakaways' were introduced by ANSA some years ago, the 1kg becomes the breakaway and therefore the rating for any claim. Anyway not good practice.

FISHING REPORTS

From Swansea, at the traditional lunchtime gathering at SWANSEA, there were few reports of fish. Seems squid were better than flathead. Sid and Arthur managed nice size poddies at Cams Wharf while Graeme and Kylie got

Coming Events—the detail

2 March General meeting # 530. Our speaker this evening is to be Brad Sutton. Brad's topic will be fishing for bream. Brad is a bit of an expert when it comes to bream. He will be demonstrating rigs, baits, rods, reels and lines. A successful bream fisherman. A talk not to be missed.

10-12 March ANSA Narooma Sportfishing Convention. This famous (and ANSA's first ever) convention has been running continuously since 1969—this will be the 49th year. The main attraction is Montague Island where large fish abound. There is estuary fishing in Wodonga inlet as well as plenty of easily accessible beach fishing both south and north of town. Accommodation in those early days was in tents at Mystery Bay. These days all sorts of accommodation is available around town. Narooma have a great clubhouse situated on—in fact over the waters of Wodonga Inlet. Meals and refreshments will be served here. And speaking of the meals, plenty of variety and as much as you can eat. And if you just happen (and it is unlikely) to be peckish during the day and not out fishing, there is a fish and chip shop next door. The competition has Awards for highest point scoring fish in; Gamefishing, Bluewater sportfishing, Rocks, Beach, Estuary, Flyfishing, Tagging, Ladies, Junior and Sub-junior, Tagging (senior and junior). Heaviest species (non-line class) and Champion Club Divisions. More than enough. St George managed to win this competition once and that was a long, long time ago. A detailed Fact Sheet is on Page 8.

17-19 March ANSA's Sydney Tournament, co-hosted by St George and South Sydney clubs. The tournament this year is to be open to both ANSA and non ANSA anglers with category award winners to receive cash prizes.

Non ANSA competitors can only contest 'Length Only' section.

SGSFC will cater with a reduced menu requiring a reduced cooking commitment by club members. The detailed fact Sheets are on pages 10 & 11.

Entry fees are Adult $40, Family $100, Child $20

This year ANSA is developing a major saltwater tournament known as the Summer Slam Convention, where the three established Conventions (Nowra, Narooma & Sydney) are being linked to provide the opportunity for ANSA anglers to compete in all THREE conventions for fabulous prizes. A detailed Fact Sheet is on Page 13.

In the pipeline is a similar competition for the Freshwater Conventions.

from our President

Our first meeting for 2017 saw several presentations and detail on forthcoming events.

A thank you to Chris Holland and Colin King for their presentation of detail for any member who intends fishing Swansea as scheduled or at a later date. The information provided on bait and fishing locations was of benefit for anglers, particularly if targeting different species, whether fishing from boat or land based.

A thank you also to John Everett and Ron Camp who followed with a presentation on Fishing Botany Bay. The detailed maps shown, along with rigs and baits used, should give us the edge when we next fish the area and in the future.

Details on the then forthcoming ANSA Competitions at Nowra, Narooma and Sydney were also provided. With Nowra now past (see comments elsewhere in newsletter) further information on Narooma and Sydney will be forthcoming.

As previously mentioned, if intending to attend a particular activity, please contact Ron Camp on 0402 816 273. This is necessary should an activity be changed because of prevailing weather conditions.

Our next family day will be Sunday 26 February. Details, including map of Bonna Point, Kurnell, have been forwarded. Please contact if details have not been received.

At the March 2 Meeting, Brad Sutton will talk on 'Bream Fishing'. His experience with different rigs and baits will provide a better insight for us when targeting this species.

I look forward to seeing you at the meeting

Dennis

theirs just inside Blackneds Bay. But as the day drew on flathead did respond. Max took back to Raymond Terrace just one only flathead which he cooked for dinner. Not too bad he reckoned.

It must be said the weather was hot, hot & hot. Graeme and Kylie's kids had a great swim at lunchtime beside our boats.

The new boat ramp on the south side is ~~lousy~~ not real good. The pontoon is accessed after launching by tying the boat to it while walking back up the ramp and on to the pontoon. It suffers from surge from boats and jet skis passing by. This ramp was installed to replace the washed away one on the north side. However all is not lost - the ramp at the end of Lake Rd - turn left at the traffic lights on the south side. Good parking and e a s y.

From Bob McMahon, 'Chris Holland and I spent a week at Swansea and I must admit that I was disappointed with the fishing, particularly in the main channel. We had the usual trouble catching poddy mullet but that didn't matter because when we did we didn't catch anything with them anyway. We only got five Flathead, all taken on lures. Four of those were taken on the runout tide as the water ran off the sandbar just above the road bridge. Also managed a total of 31 Squid, mainly taken in the lake.

From Phil Turner,

Hi Bill,

I have not been around for the last three weeks. Went to Yamba for three days fishing with no success on Mackerel or Nth Bluefin. Water was not correct temperature but was close. We did hook up some large Tailor on homemade stick bait lures (around 3-4kg) and saw a few monster kingfish cruising the wall each morning. Also Nth Blues did come in on the last day. We reckon we were two weeks early. All the Mulloway are up at Grafton and not at the entrance as they have had no rain at Yamba or mountains of any significance. Then continued up to Surfers Paradise from Yamba to do renovations on daughters kitchen, which is where I have been since. I did go out for a fish one night with a mate who lives up near Surfers. We caught live prawns in the golf course ponds and then used them at another pond location that contains: mangrove jacks, giant herring, bream and tarpon. It was the wrong tide and the fishing was slow but I did manage two tarpon around the 2kg mark. The channels around Surfers are full of fish and no one seems to fish. Saw schools of bream with big blue noses over 40cm in numbers of 40-50 per school also big eye trevally, luderick, and various other species. Next time I go up I need to get a Qld licence and take some lighter gear.

Cheers Phil

Mr 1kg Does it Again at the Nowra Convention

Although fishing only one day due to illness, Ron Camp again showed he is king of the flatties with 80, 60, 56 and 40cm captures on the first day of the convention.

In hot conditions, fishing at Jewfish Bay at St Georges Basin using live bait Ron, secured his catches and at the time of this report is set to take both first and second places in the estuary competition. A great effort indeed.

And from Bob McMahon, 'Brendan and I went down the river on Wednesday and while the fishing was slow we managed to get a 34cm Estuary Perch and a 70cm Flathead on my favourite Ecooda Prawn lure. See pic of Bob's favourite Estuary Perch lure on page 4

Favourite Lures - Bob McMahon

Bob's favourite for Estuary Perch — the Live Shrimp lure not the spoon, silly!

Bob mentioned the prawn colour is no longer available - but they are trying to have a batch made.

Fishing report

We had an amazing day out of Port Hacking on Friday 27th January on Avalon. With Bruce, Belinda and good friend Chris on board we landed two Striped Marlin and seven 60-70cm Mahi Mahi to finish the day. The marlin were caught between 80fa and 110fa. We encountered a bait ball covered in Striped Marlin at around 11:20am getting multiple strikes from different fish, finally getting the hook to set on one. Chris did a top job on the rod and we had the tag in to a 75kg model within 20 minutes. More missed hook-ups before finally another one set at 4pm. Belinda was on the rod this time and the tag went into a 60kg model. A nearby floating log saw us get 7 Dollies before heading home.

The following day we took out a keen young fisherman, Tom, and he landed six Mahi Mahi which were all returned to grow a little bigger.

We'll be spending the next couple weekends in Port Stephens to fish the NSWGFA Interclub.

Belinda (Rayment)

Nowra Convention

The convention was held from 17-19th February, and Trevor Dean, Ron Camp and myself fished St Georges Basin. Overall the weather was good (if hot), and the water temperature was around the 24 mark. Trevor and I fished the day before the convention to test the area for bream using prawns, but the buggers were very shy. We did record two flathead at 49 and 52 cm on plastics at the western end of the basin.

During the convention, Ron fished Jewfish bay for some good captures on 1kg line but we struggled with school bream and snapper which did not trouble the scorer, plus a few other legals which we threw back.

Overall the convention appeared to be not well supported this year with no entries in ladies, junior, beach or rocks posted at last check. Only one bream featured on the board.

Blue water seemed the strongest field. This is a good convention fished in a great area of the coast and concerted effort by a few fishers would probably have carried the day for any club.

Fishing with monsters Waterway's link to historic attack Take me to the river, but don't drop me in with the sharks

Murphy

Another hot summer day's end and the Macleay River is beginning to glass off. Suddenly the mirror water is shattered by mullet tearing through the surface.

"Something big's chasing them," Jarrad Smith says.

They say the land along the river bank around Kempsey on the NSW Mid North Coast is so fertile that a discarded 10-inch nail left overnight turns into a crow bar, but this summer the deep brown waters are alive with bull sharks.

Nearly every other night since early December, Smith and some of his mates finish work in town and head off to fish for bull sharks. Sometimes their partners and children watch them cast lines from the banks. Other times they fish from boats.

They have favourite spots: a 20-metre deep trench scoured out where the Macleay floods and water slams into a granite cliff on a bend in the river; the "honey hole" on the Belmore River and the boat ramp at Frederickton five kilometres north along the river.

They've been landing bull sharks up to a metre or so long. Some Kempsey mates landed a two-metre-plus monster on Tuesday night. "Sometimes we get none a night," Smith says. "Other times we'll land two or three. Catch and release usually. Of course, some blokes catch and fillet."

A boiler maker, Smith worked in the Bowen Basin coal mine for a while but the FIFO life drove him around the bend and he returned home to work in a machinery store, father two children and hunt bull sharks.

The shark terror that started in Western Australia five years ago and spread to the NSW North Coast two years back became a political football in both states. Victoria got into the act this summer with unprecedented shark numbers spotted.

Everybody has a theory. Chris Brock, one of the surfers who opened for the repose of the souls of the dead but rather an English take on the French word for shark, requin) has a unique knack in being able to inhabit water that's fresh, brackish or salty.

"Why the rivers?" Smith asks.

"Well, they come up to have their young. Reckon all the hot weather and no rain has pushed salty water up the river and the bull sharks are here to get among the bass and mullet."

up the NSW North Coast in the '60s, reckons the great whites are back because nobody is killing whales.

Smith thinks the long line fishers have so depleted stocks that sharks are cruising the Australian continental shelf in search of food. Great whites and tiger sharks get bad press but bull sharks may be the real villains.

From Wayne Colling - very near South West Rocks, I read that....we haven't caught one for a couple of years. Josh has been up to Belmore 3 times this season for not even a bite....

Wayne is referring to the article in the Herald on 18-19 February 2017. Wayne and his son Josh found bull sharks in the Belmore River able to be caught landbased. See article below. Not quiet sure how Josh found the time to go fishing - he is currently building a house at Port Macquarie for he and his girl friend and working full time. Tough life eh dad?

Master Angler Award

Belinda Rayment has been awarded her Master 10 Angler Award in the Gamefishing Division. Belinda's 1st capture in the division was in December 1999 – a Striped Marlin of 71kg on 15kg caught at the Jervis Bay Canyons. She made her 10th capture in September 2016 – a Tiger Shark of 292.5kg on 15kg caught at the Southern Canyons.

ANSA's Nowra Convention was held over the weekend of 17-19 February. St George SFC was represented by Ron Camp, Trevor Dean and John Everett who have each been awarded 3 CAA points. Ron took out the Estuary section and further CAA points will be awarded to Ron once the final results are available.

Waterbird Of The Month

Azure Kingfisher Ceyx azureus

Appearance. The smallest of the Australian Kingfishers is glossy royal blue above and orange-rufous below, with red feet. There is a small rufous spot in front of the eye and a prominent white patch at the side of the neck. The long, black, bill may have a lighter coloured tip.

Voice. A shrill squeak, 'peet peet', in flight.

Habitat and range. Fresh or tidal creeks, rivers, rainforest streams, lakes, swamps estuaries. Coastal and inland from Kimberly eastward and south to Victoria as far as SA.

Breeding. Sept. to Jan. in the south, Nov. to April in the north. Five to 7 white glossy eggs laid on bare earth in a riverbank burrow. Incubation 20-22 days. Chicks fledge in 22-28 days.

Feeding. Perches on streamside branches, fallen logs, tree roots or fence posts. Makes quick splashing dives to catch small fish. Flies fast and low when changing position. Typically returns to the same perch several times following unsuccessful dives.
